List of Contributors

Alexander Green

Alexander Green is Visiting Associate Professor in the Department of Jewish Thought at SUNY University at Buffalo, USA. He completed his PhD at the University of Toronto, Canada, in the Department for the Study of Religion and his MA in Jewish Thought at the Hebrew University of Jerusalem, Israel. His research focuses on medieval Jewish philosophy, ethics, and the history of biblical interpretation.

Kathleen Gyssels

Kathleen Gyssels is Professor of French and Francophone literatures, Black and Jewish Diasporas, and Postcolonial Theory, at the University of Antwerp. Her expertise is in postcolonial literatures, African, African-American and Caribbean literatures, Jewish literatures, anthropology and travel writing, trauma studies, and francophony.

Chayyim Holtkamp

Chayyim Holtkamp (she/her or they/them) is a recent History Master's graduate from the College of Charleston and the Citadel and attended Appalachian State University for her Bachelor's in both History and Psychology. Her main field of interest is disability history, particularly that of the nineteenth and twentieth centuries.

Peter McNeil

Peter McNeil (FAHA) is distinguished professor of design history at University of Technology Sydney, Australia. He has worked closely with community and artistic groups including The Sydney Jewish Museum ('Dressing Sydney').

Rebecca Margolis

Professor Rebecca (Rivke) Margolis is the Pratt Foundation Chair of Jewish Civilisation at Monash University. She is the author of Yiddish Lives On: Strategies of Language Transmission (2023) and Jewish Roots, Canadian Soil: Yiddish Culture in Montreal, 1905-1945 (2011). Her current research on new Yiddish cinema investigates the televisual and cinematic production of Yiddish-language dialogue on screen.

Philip Mendes

Professor Philip Mendes is the Director of the Social Inclusion and Social Policy Research Unit in the Department of Social Work, Monash University, Australia.

Jacques J. Rozenberg

Jacques J. Rozenberg is an alumnus of the Ecole Normale Supérieure de Saint-Cloud. Having taught in several French and foreign universities as a 'Full Professor', he is an Associate Researcher at the National Center for Scientific Research. With a philosophical, scientific, psychoanalytic and Hebrew background, he is the author and co-editor of 15 books, as well as numerous articles, in French and English.

Ronald Schechter

Ronald Schechter (PhD, Harvard, 1993) is Professor of History at William & Mary in Virginia, USA. Among his publications is Obstinate Hebrews: Representations of Jews in France, 1715-1815 (Berkeley: University of California Press, 2003), which won the American Historical Association's Leo Gershoy Award and the Society for French Historical Studies' Pinckney Prize. He has had several major fellowships, including a Polonsky fellowship at the Oxford Center for Hebrew and Jewish Studies and a Guggenheim fellowship.

Ian Young

Ian Young is Professor of Biblical Studies at Australian Catholic University.

John Zeleznikow

Professor John Zeleznikow has conducted research and taught in Australian, US, French, Dutch, Israeli, Belgian, German, UK, Polish, and Spanish universities. He has worked in mathematics, computer science, law, and business schools. Over the past 30 years, his research has focused on how artificial intelligence can be used to enhance decision-making. He constructed the first system to use machine learning to provide legal advice.